

Prof. Dr. Anne Burmeister, Chair Organizational Behavior

searches

two Student Assistants

Your tasks:

- Research support in the area of diversity & inclusion and digitization
- Literature review and analysis (e.g., pattern recognition, trends)
- Data collection support (e.g., survey programming)
- Data analysis support (e.g., coding, data cleaning, descriptive analyses)

Our requirements:

- Student in the field of business administration (e.g., CEMS) or psychology
- Interest in topics related to diversity & inclusion and digitization
- High degree of independence and conscientiousness
- Fluent in English, both written and spoken
- Desirable: Experience with statistical software (SPSS, R)

What we offer:

- 35 hours/month (approx. January to December 2026)
- Practical involvement in cutting-edge research projects in Organizational Behavior
- Mentorship for kick-starting your career in academia and/or consulting
- Flexible working hours and remote work (office space is available if desired)

Send your application consisting of (1) max. 1-page motivation letter, (2) CV, and (3) grade overview to walsken@wiso.uni-koeln.de until 23rd November 2025.