Stellenbeschreibung

We are seeking a motivated candidate to support our analysts and experts with a wide range of activities, including everyday topic development, strategic research, and crafting technical solutions. You'll collaborate closely with our global team of expert analysts, gaining insight into BCG's approach to solving our clients' challenges. This position offers you a unique opportunity to learn in a highly professional and fast-paced environment, providing you with valuable experience and a deep dive into the world of strategic consulting.

Travel, Cities and Infrastructure (TCI) at BCG, covering many different segments that form a significant and dynamic part of the global economy – Infrastructure, Travel, Transport, Tourism, Real Estate, Cities and Logistics, to name just a few. There are three sectors at the heart of the PA:

- Travel, Transport Infrastructure & Leisure (TTL)
- Logistics, Parcel/Postal & Shipping (LPS)
- Cities, Infrastructure Development, Real Estate & Tourism (CRT)

You can work up to 20 hours/week during your semesters and up to 40 hours/week during your vacation time. The role offers enough flexibility to combine personal, academic, and professional life. This is a temporary role from min. 12 to max. 24 months. You need to be an enrolled university student in Germany.

YOU'RE GOOD AT

- Excellent written and verbal communication skills in English
